

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides methods of preventing or treating West Nile virus as well as infections
5 caused by other viruses of the Flaviviridae family in animals comprising administering to the animal a therapeutically effective amount of a compound of formula I either as alone or in combination with immunomodulators.

